what have we got? we ain't got shit shut your mouth and get use to it there's still no future and there's still no hope and any kind of change seems like a fucking joke how long are we going to sit back and take their shit and why the fucking fuck do we gotta live like this?
what's it going to take for us to open our eyes and when the fuck are we going to realize?

there gotta be
there's gotta be another way for me and you to live but i'm afraid we ain't got no time there ain't no time when were fighting each other rob,rape, torturing, and killing one another they sit back and laugh and we all remain divided any kind of resistance or revolution has now subsided

but human kind keeps proving everyday that we ain't got no fucking time there ain't no time for human kind your lust for domination leaves you all so blind what's it gonna take for you to open your eyes and what's it gonna take for you to finally realize there's gotta be

for me and you to live but i'm afraid we're all running out of time
