Where, where are the stars?
The one that we used to call ours
Can't imagine it now
We used to laugh til we fell down.
The secrets we had, are now in the past
From something to nothing, tell me.
How did we lose our way?
It's hard to remember
All that we shared
Now we both have separate lives
From lovers to strangers, now alone
There's no one catching my fall
No one to hear my call
It's like i never loved you at all.
Now you're so far away
And i see our star is fading
One too many times
Guess it just got tired of waiting around.
The nights that we thought, if these walls could talk
From something to nothing,
Tell me.
So now ones he give you love
Is it only me now that's thinking of, what we had and what we were
Did you ever care, baby was i ever there?
