No(x12).
Roll out of bed.
Knowing it's hard day, full of stupid people and friends.
It's always hard to say the right things to the ones I love.
The lights are all green.
The cops don't harass you.
An old friend drops by, no work the next day.
Only you decide your moods.
Only you, you decide.
Mindless conversation avoided.
I let the sun shine on my face.
The flowers look a little better.
These days are few and far between.
So enjoy the while they last(x2)
Don't shut your eyes.
Let the warm sun shine on your face.
Peace of mind, clear thoughts.
A warm bed.
All these things are taken for granted in our lives.
Look around at all of this world.
Some ugly. mostly beautiful.
We take it all for granted.
A conscious decision to believe in yourself.
