I can hear your conscience fall apart
As I start to feel lonesome
I can feel the walls start to close in on me,
Maybe I can make you want to drown
As I stare into your soul
Can the present make it all turn mean?

I can hear your conscience fall apart
As I start to feel lonesome
I can feel the walls start to close in on me,
Maybe I can make you want to drown
As I stare into your soul
Can the present make it all turn mean?

And if I fall,
May the high place bring me down...

I'll never need a
I'll never need a
I'll never need a
Another sign

No I'll never need a
I'll never need a
I'll never need a
Another lie from you
