Lyrics: David

Self inflicted chaos born
Spiritual desert inside me
Where can I find me a shelter
Somewhere to water my dried out self

Unknown shores ahead of me
Following the bright new road
Only darkness behind me
I will never ever look back

Fill me with your living water
Let me never thirst again

Next day I can not see from here
The past does no longer matter
All that I care for from this day on
Is walking the road, made by the Son

Fill me with your living water
Let me never thirst again
