Open you ind on your beliefs
A lucid vision of your reality
Fear pushed you hard against the wall
Consume your force to face it all

All the weaker try to drag you down
To keep you from rising
Jealousy feeds on them
In the abyss of insecurity

We are born alone in this world
We die alone in this world
Our destiny is our own
Nobody can live our life

I am the king of my future
Blind shall lead the blind
I am not follower but a leader
I am the King of my future

My mind is set
All the voices in my head
Are muting forever
By the convictions of my act
