No one ever really knows
How the touch of love is everything
No one really understands
What a simple touch, the joy it can bring

You can ask your mother, call out to your sister
They will tell you just the same, yea
Sometimes it's best to follow words within a dream
'Cuz this may never come again

Shine your light through my window
That's the sign that our love is here to stay
You are my rhyme and my reason

In the shadows of a never ending kiss
Through the memoirs of my soul
We been strolling heart to heart, hand in hand
Speculating when the hot goes cold

But I'm no bitter child, I'm far from a fool
I deem that heaven is destiny, hey
Forever's never easy, but time, time will tell
It's in the stars for us to see

Shine your light through my window
That's the sign that our love is here to stay
You are my rhyme and my reason

Time will tell

Shine your light through my window
That's the sign that our love is here to stay
You are my rhyme and my reason
