I always wonder what it takes
Fifteen stitches and soft parody
To make my eyes be like deceit
Believe the sting proves heart to me

Now all I know that you love me
Thank God that you love

At all dislocated at the joint
And timing is everything in the bed
You'll sleep for hours to keep away
Then sink the teeth then bat your eyes now

Now all I know that you love me
Thank God that you love

What surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on

What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on

At least now I know
At least now I know
At least now I know

That you love me
Thank God that you love at all

What surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on

What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on

What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
What's the surprise I was right here
Going off , going on
