It's so simple to look at every little thing I do wrong
It's so simple to overlook every little thing I do right, right
I think too much
I'm way too much
Too stuck up

You're probably right this time but I don't want to listen
You're probably right this time but I don't even care

I lose things too much
I'm not one to trust

You're probably right this time but I don't want to listen
You're probably right this time but I don't even care
And if it was mine to say I wouldn't say it
And if it was mine to say I wouldn't speak
