Wait a minute

There's something on my mind, I can't hold in any longer

Turn around, don't just turn the radio down

I don't wanna hear "Oh, uh, oh, uh, oh, uh"

No, no, no

Wait a minute

There's something I wanna say

Tell me who joined us in the bed last night

Don't look at me crazy, it did not feel right

A little to drink but had a lot to say

Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

Whoever she was, she was on your mind

You stuttered a name that didn't sound like mine

Your silence right now could jeopardize you and I

Tell me who it was, oh tell me who it was

Tell me who joined us in the bed last night

Don't look at me crazy, it did not feel right

A little to drink but had a lot to say

Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

Whoever she was, she was on your mind

You stuttered a name that didn't sound like mine

Your silence right now could jeopardize you and I

Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

You left home early and you came home late, again

I know there's something goin' on

Tell me what it is

What does she have that I don't?

Don't try to even lie

I just wanna know the truth

Last night while you were in my bed

You brought Cathy, Tracy, Trina home with you, tell me

Tell me who joined us in the bed last night

Don't look at me crazy, it did not feel right
A little to drink but had a lot to say
Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

Whoever she was, she was on your mind
You stuttered a name, didn't sound like mine
Your silence right now could jeopardize you and I
Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

(I'll tell you how I knew)
I could feel it in your touch ain't lovin' good enough, no (Baby who's foolin' who?)
You come home tired all the time and you don't let me get mine, no

(Now before I say we're through)
She played you for a fool, she can't love you like I do
You can say what you want to
But last night you brought someone home with you, tell me

Tell me who joined us in the bed last night
Don't look at me crazy, it did not feel right
A little to drink but had a lot to say
Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

Whoever she was, she was on your mind
You stuttered a name that didn't sound like mine
Your silence right now could jeopardize you and I
Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

Tell me who joined us in the bed last night
Don't look at me crazy, it did not feel right
A little to drink but had a lot to say
Tell me who it was, tell me who it was

Whoever she was, she was on your mind
You stuttered a name that didn't sound like mine
Your silence right now could jeopardize you and I
Tell me who it was, tell me who it was
