Listen up now she's a lot of trouble
Got myself down sort of less than humble
Took me down south to the land of plenty
She got bad love oh lord protect me

Should of known the time before
When she knocked me down to the floor
Now there's no more wasting time

'Cause I'm moving on down the line

Got to get back to Kansas City
Little bitty thing just sitting pretty
Took a few years to learn my lesson
Save the very last sin for my last confession

Should of known the time before
When you knocked me down to the floor
Thought that everything was fine
But now I'm moving on down the line

Got to keep them wheels a rollin'
No more breakin' down no slowing
And when I start to feel that pressure
Don't you know I'm moving on, moving on Moving on down the line
