We stayed in this room
Near the waterfalls
Where we met the young couple
From Clermont-Ferrand
You were a red primafleur
Amongst grey daffodils
I remember a tune
Which goes like this

Kiss me kiss me like I kiss you
Miss me miss me like I miss you
While you dream your dream of somebody else
I play for you the whole night through

Though I hated the falls
I enjoyed every night
Behind the curtains of joy
The sunlight burned dry
All the flowers that tried
To dim your bright light
I kept singing my song
Through all day and all night

Kiss me kiss me like I kiss you
Miss me miss me like I miss you
While you dream your dream of somebody else
I play for you the whole night through
The bells of your crown
Couldn't hear them ring
They played for you
For me they won't sing
As I kissed too deep
Right into your throat
Found an oak inside
That's what it told

Kiss me kiss me like I kiss you
Miss me miss me like I miss you
Go on dreaming your dream
Seems like somebody else
Plays the part of yours

In a cheap old hotel

Now you lay underneath the tower bell
I can hear them singing gloomy tunes from hell
Where the kisses don't burn
%91cause the fire/s too hot
So I sing for you
With the help from God

Kiss me kiss me like I kiss you
Miss me miss me like I miss you
While you dream your dream of somebody else
I pray for you to escape from hell
