You hated old Chicago in the wintertime, when the cold wind blows right through you And you said "It ain't no fun" Called the West a dream come true, but one week it got the best of you on a pipeline in that Oklahoma sun You swore if this day ever came, there'd be no strings, no playing games
Misty eyes and sad goodbyes to say
Love is gone, why try to put a finger on what happened Somewhere down the road it slipped away

CHORUS:

All i ever wanted was a baby in my arms, a wedding ring and a simple thing called home All you ever gave me was a look down some ole highway, the sky above and the love of a rolling stone

I remember when you told me that you'd always be "a drifting man" and we "didn't need another hungry mouth to feed"
But I won't bring a child into a world between the roses and the thorn in the side of a tumbling tumbleweed One day you may miss me, but I hope you don't feel guilty
Go chase the sun until your dying day But inside me, there's a second little heartbeat that goes with me, and the one good thing that happened on the way
