Oh, what it did to me... Tanya Tucker

I saw you tonight, in her arms so tight,
I watched as she held you tenderly
You say when she held you it did nothing to you,
but oh what it did to me.

You say when she kissed you, you didn't feel a thing
well I felt enough for all three.
You want me to believe it did nothing to you,
but ohhhh what it did to me.

And I felt the warm tears roll slowly down my face
As I watched another, slowly take my place.

And now it's all over you want me to forget and pretend that things are like they used to be that it was just a kiss that did nothing to you but ohhhhh what it did to me.
you want me to believe it did nothing to you,
but ohhhh what it did to me...
to me.
