So empty inside, like a life that ends
A sun that goes down, never shines again
Heart ripped out, stone cold hole left Sleeping forever, the only choice i have No more dreams, all faith is lost forever more...

The pain in my soul seems so endless
Waiting for everlasting salvation
All is gone...

See the leaves come down, so begins the end

Look at the sky-shine with the wintermoon
Frost has set in, and all feels so cold
Depression inside reaches the highest
I am going to lay down and rest
Darkness
