"Everything I Want"

A coward I openly admit
Your hope for me I will forget
You are my love, my lust and my misery
I'd drag the world onto it's knees
And make it beg for you I need
Your love, your list and all you own
When I have I will run
I will break your heart to none
I will break your heart

You're everything I want
And everything I fear
Let me out, let me be

You'd drag the world onto it's knees
And make it beg for me you need
My love, my lust and all I own
When you have it you will run
You will break my heart to none
You will break my heart

You're everything I want
And everything I fear
Let me out, let me be
You're every hope I hold
And everything I loathe
Let me out, let me be
Let me out, let me be
Let me out, let me be
