Fucked up beyond the rest, plastered to my bed
Nothing bearing in me that's left, just a mutinous protest
Stories old of the critical fold, you've heard it all before Nothing new, just this little girl
And this is how I'm feelin'

Knuckle bashed insomniac, my head takes another spin
Never been aware of the fact, grant you a moral switch Stories old of the critical fold, you've been sold it all before Laid bare from all alone, and nothing, I could care less

You stay up all night to keep my eyes dry
You stay up all night to make it easier when I cry
You stay up all night, stop me from feelin' like I could die
You stay up all night to be by my side

Fucked up beyond repair, only fragments in my head Too hard to find a piece of myself, leave it to someone else
Guilty of getting out for free, with the? empathy Given up, I'm completely carefree, yeah, I couldn't give a fuck less

You stay up all night to keep my eyes dry
You stay up all night to make it easier when I cry
You stay up all night, stop me from feelin' like I could
You stay up all night to be by my side

My head feels tight, like it's gonna burst
My lungs feel light, so tired of getting burned
My head feels tight, like it's gonna burst
My lungs feel like...

You stay up all night to keep my eyes dry
You stay up all night to make it easier when I cry
You stay up all night, stop me from feelin' like I could

You stay up all night to be by my side

We all get a little fucked up sometimes
We all need someone to make it easy when we cry

Don't let me go, don't let me go, don't let me go Stay by my side
