i didnt mean to hurt you i just wanted you to wait i never made any promises i knew that i might break i didnt mean to lead you on you just got the wrong impression ive gotta stop living this lie now ive gotta make the confession

all the things i said
all the things ive said
running through my head
running through your head gotta make it through
can i make it through?
gotta think of you
what about you?

i no that ive moved on and my memories of you have faded but i got a call form your best friend telling me you told him you felt jaded its been bout a year since i hurt you i hope you've learnt to forgive and forget but then i guess if that was me id always think of things to regret

can i make it through?
gotta think of you
what about you?

i guess its just time to say you've moved on in every way but secretly you still love me could i still have feelings for you? how can i when i hurt you so much its me the one u cant bare to touch why did i hurt you maybe you were the one and ive just thrown it all away

forgive me
forgive me
im sorry
whats the point you wont forgive me you wont take me back well not after that
listen.....
