I had a conversation with the mirror,
It ended up not having much to say,
It said today was for the lovers and believers,
I hate to tell you, it just ain't your day
So this is my rain song,
It's cold outside and I still love you,
Guess I was dead wrong,
You find out when there's clouds above you,
Finding it ain't worth losing you,
When it all comes down, it comes down to,
This lonely rain song,
You're on my mind and I still love you
I had some complications with the voices,
'Round and going 'round inside my mind,
I used to think this heart had lots of choices,
But they all lead to your doorstep every time
So this is my rain song,
It's cold outside and I still love you,
Guess I was dead wrong,
You find out when there's clouds above you,
Finding it ain't worth losing you,
When it all comes down, it comes down to,
This lonely rain song,
You're on my mind and I still love you
So this is my apology,
My words, my tears, are all of me,
Laid out in front of you,
Like the thought were true on a sunny afternoon,
This is a song for you
So this is my rain song,
It's cold outside and I still love you,
Guess I was dead wrong,
You find out when there's clouds above you,
Finding it ain't worth losing you,

When it all comes down, it comes down to,
This lonely rain song,
You're on my mind and I still love you.
I still love you
I had a conversation with the mirror,
It ended up not having much to say
