Do you remember the day I leaned up against your car?

And it started rolling down the street

You screamed and ran after it

And tried to open the door and ran over your foot

And I was too busy laughing on the ground to see

It would take Brad Pitt to leave you

It takes five seconds to need you
I'm mad at all the lovebirds cause they don't know to play our song

I wish that pretty girls couldn't see you

Wish every road would lead you

Right to me

Cause that's where you belong

Til Brad Pitt Comes Along
