It's where the obvious turns dumb and clarity turns off
I'm standing somewhere near the back of the room
I'm on her left I'm in between her
She's amazing her words save me
She holds her head as if it's truth
Where the last one passed me by
Read about her in the papers and on TV
They say she's outspoken
Many people will try to destroy her
But if she were to stop I stop we all stop
She's amazing her words save me
She holds her head as if it's truth
I'm sorry my mistake do I sound strange
I always wanted to make sense I fell flat
I have in I gave in you cannot trust all lies
I always wanted to make sense do I lose...
She's amazing her words save me
She holds her head and it's truth
