

Tears Of Magdalena "Immortal Love"

It's a long time ago
Do you remember the place
Where we first time met and now again
Our love lit like a flame

You told me I'm your light
In the dark side of your life
And your heart will burn for me in eternity

[Chorus:]
Even if nightstars would fall or sun would rise no more
My heart and my soul belongs to you
Even if mountains would fall or storms would break the walls
My love and my life belongs to you

I don't want to live
Without your love that I need
I want to soar like a seagull
You are the wind under my wings

Forever we dare to try
Together we learn to fly
Searching peaceful place of world
For better life

Even if nightstars would fall or sun would rise no more
My heart and my soul belongs to you
Even if mountains would fall or storms would break the
walls
My love and my life belongs to you

Let me show you my world
Let me sail across the seas
With you to the eternal land
Somewhere there is promised island
And there we will find peace and love
Away from sorrow and despair
And our love will be evergreen
In the paradise you've never seen

My darling can't you see

Oh darling you must believe me
Our love is immortal and it is real...

Even if nightstars would fall or sun would rise no more
My heart and my soul belongs to you
Even if mountains would fall or storms would break the
walls
My love and my life belongs to you
