(Intro)

"You know that there are billions of stars in the universe"

But the star had quite a difficult time shining amongst all the other stars

The year was 1994 when the star began his decent And continued falling, and falling...

Landing in an unknown place the star creates followers from underground up

And the quest to shoot beyond the stars once again Must all begin? Strangeland

(Tech N9ne)

Ground zero crowned hero

But aint nobody ever heard the sound befo'

I found me so

Competitive I never get the credit but get it was crowned allejo'

Now we pro the brown people

Was on it for the moment what they frownin me fo'

Layin what I was sayin didn't sound negro now people round me low down when

The beat go

I can hit then I ruin every competitor we et em poppin shit I be chewin em

Up ahead of ya excetera

Speed band is comin for ya now he's makin the industry sandwich come enjoy

The flow with tech and the minasee damage gunnin boy ya know we shakin the

Finicky planet we've landed

We've landed, the stars have fallen from the heavens

Your thoughts will reign on this planet

The arts you paint on this canvas, your helpless

We've landed, the hearts of fans have been branded

It's the start of musical madness

We've landed

Shootin for the stars lootin for the cars whos inducin

The badness we had dished back in high school

Your thoughts will reign on this planet
The arts you paint on this canvas, your helpless
We've landed, the hearts of fans have been branded

It's the start of musical madness
We've landed
