The Boogieman

[Intro]

And just when they thought that everything was peachy
keen,
Somewhere deep within the shadows,
There were other things to be seen.
An untamable beast with an urge to feast
And only alone would he stand, the culprit of fear on the 67th tier,
There lies the Boogieman.

[Verse 1]

No introduction needed
N9ne times you must repeat it
Mind tryin' to just delete it
I'm N9ne supposed to be this rough MC
Whose gluttony would rhyme grime
Trust, believe it.

A legend ever since the projects
A odd tech would get respect
When he wreck the set but never get the props
That was god blessed.
So this is me, never lettin' the crowd rest
The object of rawness
Dejected steps to darkness

Led to the industry whispering the name
History became a mystery
Cause listeners in the game
Wish to sing the same
Which cerebral glitch will lead to lane
And this will be your pit,
For me to split and bleed your brain

They heard the name
But can't put a face with it,
Oh what a shame.
When it rains in the woods he stands still.
He turns to lanes.

From sane to straight wicked,
Don't tell me you ain't heard the sayin',
"The Boogieman's real"

[Chorus]

He's underneath your bed.
Trapped inside your head.
You try to fight it,
But you decide it's just that
Boogieman.

We fear what we can't see.
This web's a tangled weave.
Life designed you
To try and blind you
From that Boogieman.

And in that voice you hear,
'Eliminate your fears'
What do you do?
Discover the truth
That it's the Boogieman

And now you know it's real
And everything you feel
Hits you again, you will stand
Face-to-face with that Boogieman.

[Verse 2]

They don't wanna have to try to do as I do
That's probably why it ain't been easy for me to slide through
I chew rappers up, on stage and mics they by-flew,
Out with the ravens, flight to hatin', haven lies you.

Cause you don't want change,
And you don't want strange,
Rearranging the main lanes to brain games from plain jane.
That's when your fame's Strange
And you can't maintain
You think you sang such an insane rain,
Samethang

And I'm the shadow in the dark
That came for battlin' the park,
And they skidaddled when I barked,
It gave a rattle to their hearts.
Cause they're afraid they will all fail
Darkness will prevail

The Boogiemán is not a tall tale.

What a tough act to follow.
You afraid? Tell me are ya?
When this came you were nada.
Tell your lane 'sayonara'

(The Boogiemán, the Boogiemán)

[Chorus]
He's underneath your bed.
Trapped inside your head.
You try to fight it,
But you decide it's just that
Boogiemán.

We fear what we can't see.
This web's a tangled weave.
But life designed you
To try and blind you
From that Boogiemán.
