Watch her stumble as she falls away
Tried to search for something to say
Lost for words, but I kept in touch
Never thought I would bleed so much.
Knew that changes were in the air
Tried to show I was able to care
But the final showing's been shown
Hard to face when I'm on my own.
Watch her stumble as she falls from grace
Go through life pretending I am OK
I caught a glimpse of the twilight zone
At least you see it when you're on your own
