You were the star
the king of them all
and you on the world somehow

but now you're alone lost in a dream
cause nobody loves you now

you picked up a rose that somebody thrown
the crown was apart in your faboulos show
they said they loved you for better or worse
but what was it worth

cause now you're alone
left in the rain
with no one to comfort you when walk home there's nothing to say

cause nobody loves you now
