In this daze
I have given me some time
To think about
A far-off light
Filling spaces
Like wandering around
And now I feel
She's a part of myself
In this light
I always find
A secret place
In her mind
Without your voice
I want to run
I have to wait
For your return
Uncertain land
Sends a divine taste
I know this place
This holy wine
Look my way

Only faraway in time
Our eyes will meet
In the Equator line
To feel the pleasure
A flow that never ends
Then see it go
To other hands
I can't blame
But I can't hide the pain
To share her dreams
With someone else
Love that hemispheres divide
I know we are two magnets
Too far apart
Love that hemispheres divide
I know we are two magnets
