The edge of night, Rosa's standing in the moonlight The family's gathered and they start to fight, when tragedy strikes
The fathers gone, his clothes are missing and the cars been blown away Rosa bites her tongue and purses her lips. Her eye starts to twitch

There's young Elayne, pretty and blind she's never been well-off
She cooks and cleans her way to everyone's hearts but what will it cost?

Antonios Home... Oh no

Every day, some one falls down the stairs and loses their mind
Amnesia lingers as the dead come alive, add a murder and a bribe
The moneys gone, the inheritance, it must pan out Rosa schemes with other socialites with poison and dynamite
And Laura's late... she insists that it's Antonio's, Or Luciano, Dominick or Sergio... She doesn't really know

Antonios Home... Oh no
