My baby changes like the weather

One day she's warm and then she's cold.
But some day I'll understand her better -
In a thousand years or so.
But as long as the stars shine above me

As long as there's life in my hands

My baby knows I always will be
Her lovin' understandin' man.

My baby rocks me like the ocean
Don't know which way she's gonna go.
But maybe some day she'll find direction -
In a thousand years or so.
But as long as the stars shine above me

But as long as the stars shine above me

...

But as long as the stars shine above me

...

But as long as the stars shine above me

...
