"Fan The Flame"

Once a wise man said to me, "This advice I give you free
A woman is made of fantasy, so fan the flame" Always keep her hopes up high, make her laugh don't make her cry
And don't let her love die, so fan the flame

A woman needs love and affection
And little things mean a lot (Little things mean a lot)
And when she has an emotional, baby
That's why you got to fan the flame to keep it burning hot

Make her feel, she ten feet tall
Even though she short and small, so fan the flame Her love is your reality, let her go and you will see Just how lonely life can be, so fan the flame

A woman needs love and praising
So give her them each day Tell her you love her, it's added protection
That's why you got to fan the flame to keep it burning
hot

Once a wise man said to me, "This advice I give you
free
A woman is made of fantasy, so fan the flame"
