"Better Ways To Spend The Day"

First thing 6AM, you roll over and watch the day begin.
It's so beautiful. That's the time when lovers meet, filled with kisses and whispers in between the sheets.
It's so wonderful. I know you're running late and the deadlines at work they cant wait but I can think of better ways to spend the day.

How much time has passed? Well its hard to tell.
You hit the snooze we both fell back asleep.
So predictable. You say your boss will know your missing,
but you being naked makes it hard to listen.
I know you're running late and the deadlines at work they cant wait but I can think of better ways to spend the day.

Why must you go, despite every bone in your body telling you no? Sometimes its best to listen. Listen to your body's intuition.

I know you're running late and the deadlines at work, well they will have to wait cuz I've got some plans for us today
