I was lying on my chest when i felt this odd connection
banging me on the head.
Missy dont you know that people rest
now in these days i've lost all of my bets.

Never felt so accepted what a grace, dont all of the angels never leave a trace.
I thank for all the light that God's put in my place
i thank for all the light i got..

For you id string my self
out of the cold out of the breeze he stood

Help me now for ill never be ashamed
the only way to go is up until the end
tell my friends...that life i waiting for them.

For you id string my self
out of the cold out of the breeze he stood

We were sitting on the bench with the clouds above sorrounding smiling at my face.
