Tears of a broken spirit
Wounds scarred by flesh
Fear of the fallen sacrifice
Simplify your warped imagination
And fly within the wind
And grasp onto the tree of life
Justified by faith in Christ
He lifts your spirit to the highest high
As you walk in the way of his light
Before the thunder speaks a thousand tales
The rain reveals to you better days
And as the sky begins to crumble
You'll wonder what's going on
Justified by faith in Christ
He lifts your spirit to the highest high
As you walk in the way of his light
As he waits for the world to end
That's when we'll see him return
That's when the Lord will break through
The sky into your heart
