There's something wrong with my head,
These bleeding thoughts don't comprehend
I'm taking this time to find my way
But as I stumble I don't want to stay...

...and I will follow you all the way
And I will follow you, 'coz I know that you care

Don't to run away, don't want to dissappear
I got to find myself in the refuge of you heart

It seems to me I don't belong here
These silent cries, as faith departs
Still taking this time to find my way
Though as I stumble, I don't want to stay...

...and I will follow you all the way
And I will follow you, 'coz I know that you care

Don't to run away, don't want to dissappear
I got to find myself in the refuge of you heart

For those who may not know, you live inside my heart
I gave you all my love, so that you might know me
For those who may not know, you live inside my heart
I gave you all my love, so that you might know me

I gave you all this love despite
I gave you all this love despite you frailty

...and I will follow you
