it's another world we think in / because words are obsolete two thousand years we kissed the devil / before we knew defeat chapter eating marx one morning / freaking out on electric meat chewing thrills with turkish madmen / space speed to sweden without sleep cocaine coloured computer cards / coding cosmic zipper skies vitamin clouds beyond the moon / yogurt blood lunacy shoes acid warped the global fetus / like the bourgeois look at feet / and cadillacs two thousand years we crossed up jesus / thinking he'd make ends meet christ no
you can't make the world to order / like a hotel service's food take the sixties as a movie / take the seventies as fuel you've got a reason to be endless / because your mood is summer cool let deliverence be existence / before this song becomes your fool
