If you lean too hard, I just back away
From your blackmail eyes
If you cut me off, you might find
That grin is a thin disguise

But don't let it weigh
Don't let me mess up your day
Just find my bell and ring it
Take me on and wing it, find my bell and ring it

It's plain to see that you waste your time
Punching holes in me
You should know by now that your sad eyes
Won't get me on my knees

But don't let it weigh
Don't let me mess up your day
Just find my bell and ring it
Take me on and wing it, find my bell and ring it
