Stop,
Step Back,
I can hear,
You screaming
Feeding me decisions,
That I can make,
My own
Respect the demanded.

One chance, one reality
To make the best of what
The world has given you

We're so lost,
I think we need help
Left behind all that we stood for
This is our one sole reality
This is our one sole reality
What path do we choose
What path do we choose

We're so lost
I think we need help
Left behind all that we stood for

So our existence has not become clear
But it seems to be halfway there
If we could only independently
Stand up to show the world that we can be anything

We're so lost
I think we need help
Left behind all that we stood for
This is our one sole reality
This is our one sole reality
What path do we choose
What path do we choose

We're so lost I think we need help
Left behind all that we stood for

I'm so lost
I think we need help
Left behind all that I stood for
This is my one sole reality
What path do I choose
