Salty drops of my tears
Flowing down my face
I can't get rid of my fears
Where are you, there is still no trace

Where are you, where are you
Where is your essence now
Where are you, where are you
Where is your essence now

Inside of me, heartbreak eternal
Floating mind, time, time funereal
You have died, you have died so beautiful
Now I yearn, now I weep for you

Where are you, where are you
Where is your essence now
Where are you, where are you
Where is your essence now

Open up your eyes
Deeply dormant goddess
Don't you hear my grievous cries
Bring me a piece of tenderness

Come back, oh Lada
Return from beyond
In the shape as before
Into my world
You left me now
I will never see you smile
Why did you die?
I will never see your bile

Where are you, where are you
Where is your essence now
Where are you, where are you
Where is your essence now
