Look the signs
Don't let the candle die out
The flames of a cry
Don't let me surrender
I can't learn
From the mistakes of my life
Lost in the universe
My thoughts fly with this madness

Like a scream
A strange voice arises in the silence
Calling for me
I want to fall in the chasm

Searching for freedom
There are tears
In my eyes again
All there I'm looking for
It's something
To relief my pain

Take a little part of my soul
And try my feelings then you will know
I'm living here
In this solitary world

I'm guilt of my sins
My thoughts are disturbed
I can't live any more
My hopes won't return

I felt in mortal sleep
I can't open my eyes
I fear what I can see
And nowhere to hide

Like a boy scared in the city
Longs to scream I am here
Asking help from the people
But nobody understands
