The world will suffer unto mankind
Man's ignorance, the sign of the time
All around us, decline and decay
Ao use denying, accept your fate

People, trying to save the world
Useless attempt, fighting in vain
They stand alone, they are held back
By billions of others, who just don't care
It's just the result of worldwide progression
The lack of challenge, kill all ambition

No motivation to emerge from the masses
Of faceless people, who've lost their emotions
They're only care about their own
Fucked up lives
These worthless people are keeping down
The ones who are trying to achive their goals

Their only ability is to criticize
The behavior of those who want more out of life
The only solution is to get rid of these fools
They're mankind's afterbirth, stupidity's tools
