I can feel the sorrow in this room
I know behind that door your life is ruined
The rest of your days will never be the same
They've all been painted shadowy gray

Oh, your life has changed
So very much in just one day
All the things of life begin to fade

I can feel the sorrow in this room
I know behind that door your life is ruined

Looking back brings too much pain
Nothing will ever be the same

Now death fills your mind
Makes you fall behind
No way can you live a normal life

I can feel the sorrow in this room
I know behind that door your life is ruined
The rest of your days will never be the same
'Cause of your sorrow filled memory.
