

Thanatopsis "Wanderer"

Visit "Wanderer" on MotoLyrics.com

A no one's man I am
Left the garbage in my hands
A wife and children I never had
They all left before the chance

Every step I take
I walk with great pain
Can't seem to find my way
Days longer and full of rage

City life just didn't work
Time to cut the curves
Travel to the world's limits
I have no permits

Traveling far and wide
Trying to get through the nights
Why do they all blame me?

I'm just a man wandering

No one at my side
I see more death each night
The vultures hang over my head
Waiting for when I'm dead

Sandy wastes I travel far
For life and no city walls
Travel to the outer limits
Trying to forget it

A no one's man I am
