(S.GebÄ©di)

The world will suffer unto mankind, man's ignorance, the sign of the times All around us decline and decay, no use denying, accept your fate (chorus:) People trying to save the world Useless attempts, fighting in vain They stand alone, they are held back, by billions of others, who just don't care It's just the result of worldwide progression; the lack of challenge killed all ambition (repeat chorus) No motivation to emerge from the masses Of faceless people, who've lost their emotions They don't give a fuck about what's going on They only care about their own miserable lives These worthless people are keeping down the ones who are trying to achieve their goals These worthless people are keeping down the ones who are trying to achieve their goals Their only ability is to criticize the behaviour of those who want more out of life The only solution; get rid of these fools, they're Mankind's Afterbirth, stupidity's tools
