In a show of hands, who has said these words before
And a show of hearts on the floor, who has ever meant them more

Well I'll swallow my pride if you'll stay for the years
And watch me spin circles as I disappear
Hearts, they don't lie they just quiver in fear
As you say

Tonight we, forget everything
And stay the night
If I was wrong then I'm sorry
I'll stop this fight
For the night
And this empty space left in the seat
To my right where you should be says a lot

Don't let it say goodbye
Don't let it say goodbye
Let it say goodbye

Forget everything and stay the night

If i was wrong I am sorry
I'll stop this fight
For the night
To my right where you should be says a lot

And today I know that tomorrow will shine golden and bring our hearts back home
And today I know that tomorrow will shine golden and
bring our hearts back home
And today I know that tomorrow will shine golden and
bring our hearts back home
[Echo; And today meant nothing, because youre gone
And I swear that this meant everything to me, because my hearts not home]
And today I know that tomorrow will shine golden and
bring our hearts back home
