well, this hurts me more than i can stand to say in just one sitting you left the room so i could pray so i'll pace the halls to see if i could find a hole in something or maybe places to escape oh, and everybody knows this is the part of breaking down in anybody's arms i'm reaching down and hoping this one's ours

god, please let this stay and then i fell into pieces
and she fell into me
saying, play me a song its been too long since i've heard you sing

and you got here just in time to let me know I was worth saving if nothing more than for the heart too proud to breathe but all too scared to say the things worth saying who knew this trip would be this hard as i'm looking to the sky to count the stars i wonder if you see them where you are i'm down on both my kness to pray tomorrow brings no pain

saying play me a song its been too long since i've heard you sing and we all fall to pieces but at least you fell to me and this is the wrong night tell me goodnight and let it go i stayed here and you just prayed

my head would clear and i'd stay safe

The pieces left that love has changed just saved everything

and yeah we all fall to pieces
