You say that Gainesville's got no soul
Well that sounds like a good excuse
For coming home
And all these Tallahassee skylines,
They keep singing out a song
I know it's your song
They've been singing all night long
And this Galley Alley rooftop
Just keeps calling out your name
To come and stay
So stay

(And so stay) Stay and watch the stars come up and then the sun as they all fade away
I'll sing you every song I wrote if it'll make you wanna
stay

And it'll say
That I've missed you
And these words
They'll convince you

I poured through every song I wrote
Every line that I've cried
Every note that was spilt with this pain
And every line in every song,
They all seemed to come out wrong,
Until your song
So lets sing them all night long
And this Tallahassee skyline hasn't changed
While the view from every rooftop says to stay

Stay and watch the stars come up and then the sun as they all fade away
I'll sing you every song I wrote if it'll make you wanna

And it'll say,
That I missed you,
And these words,
They'll convince you

And I could call you baby doll all the time
And you'd whisper in my ears, you'd say:
I miss you boy
So sing it over again, and over again, and over again
(2x)

And I could call you baby doll all the time You'd whisper in my ears, you'd say (whisper in my ears, you'd say):
I miss you boy
So sing it over again, and over again, and over again

Still you'd say
That I missed you
And these words
They'll convince you
And I'm hoping as I kiss you

And I could call you baby doll all the time
And you'd whisper in my ears, you'd say:
I miss you boy
(2x)
