

The 12th Rib

"As Death Falls Upon Lovers"

Visit "As Death Falls Upon Lovers" on MotoLyrics.com

This love I carved for you is tainted by remorse
I won't hold it back tonight because you are so lame Burn my grieving soul and hold it with your hands
These fights I cannot take, are starving for my blood

So let's pretend that this is the end of everything that you've adored
I won't forget every word that you've said because eternity has embraced your life

Inhale this hypocrisy
Inhale and don't vomit it
This is the best way to make sure that you are still alive

Embrace the day, as death falls upon us
We cannot hide from it; it is our time to die
As days are getting shorter, don't ever try to trust anyone but me

Decapitated
In fear, I stepped across these tombstones
In fear, I took our love away

So let's pretend that this is the end of everything that
you've adored
I won't forget every word that you've said because eternity has embraced
(So let's pretend that this is the end of our love)

Roses are scattered in this graveyard
I kiss your lips for the last time
Then we wave goodbye

Visit The 12th Rib page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.