The enemies are coming from four directions
So wear your armors, and draw your swords
With His blessings, we'll fight against the condemned

You worship the false prophet
But you can't escape from it
As we stand here bravely
There's no way for you to run

What's done is done
Those statues can't hear your prayers
They can't even save themselves

How does it feel like to be forgotten, to be cursed?
We are different
And I won't be held down

You're just wasting your time with your manufactured
Gods for they won't answer your prayers

From the top of these great walls
We see them falling apart to the ground
So, raise your fists up to the sky with a pledge of resistance
We'll set these great walls on fire

Tonight we will escape from this city
And our ship will take us to the safest place

You're just wasting your time with your manufactured
Gods for they won't answer your prayers

From the top of these great walls
We see them falling apart to the ground
So, raise your fists up to the sky with a pledge of
resistance
We'll set these great walls on fire

From the top of these great walls
We see them falling apart to the ground
So, raise your fists up to the sky with a pledge of
resistance

We'll set these great walls on fire tonight
And nothing can stop us now
We'll set these great walls on fire tonight

Give me your hands
I'll take you to the highest height
With these wings, with these words, I'll show you the truest truth
For this is redemption

You worship the false prophet
But you can't escape from it
As we stand here bravely
There's no way for you to run

For they won't answer your prayers

From the top of these great walls
We see them falling apart to the ground
So, raise your fists up to the sky with a pledge of
resistance
We'll set these great walls on fire tonight
And nothing can stop us now
We'll set these great walls on fire

Tonight we will escape from this city
And our ship will take us to the safest place
