

The 4-Skins

"Another Nail"

Visit "Another Nail" on MotoLyrics.com

I could have planned it on my calendar
I knew you would be leaving soon
The symptoms were so obvious
The seasons changed and so did you

When you tell me that you're having fun
Your eyes are full of tension
You got too close to someone new
Forgot the one who first loved you

Every day another nail is hammered

Waiting for a message
I know it will never come
Even with the ninety nine
I feel the loss of even one

No need to keep us in suspense
The seed has died through indifference
And now we'll reap what you sowed
I'll take my tears and let you go

Everyday another nail is hammered

...there were two walking in
The field on that judgement
Day, one was taken by surprise
As the other simply walked Away...

Disaster after disaster

Everyday another nail is hammered

Visit The 4-Skins page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.