One more question before you're out the door
Can you believe in me the way I believe in you?
Without dreams our love can come to nothin'
Without love our dreams won't come true

Okay
Say no with your lips
But someday
Say yes with your heart
Well, you can't have love without dreams
And you've got to have some dreams this side of paradise
No, you can't have love without dreams
And you can't see your dreams without payin' the price
You can't have love without dreams

You thought you had some dreams, maybe
But they were just petty illusions
They were strings wound up one at a time
Into a ball of confusion

So, okay
Say no with your lips
But someday
Say yes with your heart
Well, you can't have love without dreams
And you've got to have some dreams this side of
paradise
No, you can't have love without dreams
And you can't see your dreams without payin' the price
You can't have love without dreams

Okay
Say no with your lips
But someday
Say yes with your heart
